

Three days and two nights in Pilat mountain with our class and a first grade class of our school

Cheerful for departure

The first graders on arrival at the activity center

The fifth grader chaperoning the first grader

Some snow on arrival !!

Some activities in the wild !

They seem to be happy, don't they,

You have to be quiet and respectful if you want to watch wild life

Cooking workshop in the evening !

Evening meeting to talk about what we learned during the day !

Workshop : building up a wind mill producing electricity

Here we are : lighting the bulb by blowing ! You can see on the left side of the windmill !

A touch of painting !

Ready to go for a physical activity consisting in spotting a pre marked place on the map and then picking up a proof that you reached to the point on the field !

Collecting some insects to watch them !

Scientific explanations

Spotting a snake dead !

Feeling in danger, it act as though it was

Grinning for the photo after you have had such an adventure !

Fresh water from the natural tap !

Creating together a masterpiece of art with natural materials !

Artistic farewell to a unforgettable stay !We thought about our friends somewhere in India !
